With a two-goal and one assist performance against Los Dos last Saturday, Chang earned his first nod on the USL Championship's Team of the Week. Chang has been a mainstay on the wing for the Monarchs in 2018 and has stepped into a leadership role in his second year with the club. His performance against Los Dos put any and all doubt that his inclusion on the Team of the Week was worth the nod.

RECAP: MONARCHS TROUNCE
LOS DOS 5-0

Real Monarchs SLC (1-0-2, 5 points) earned its first win under Head Coach Martin Vasquez, with a dominate 5-0 showing over LA Galaxy II on Saturday afternoon. MFs Ricardo Avila and Maikel Chang, FW Lionel Abate Etoundi, and DF Steve Jasso all found the back of the net, while the Monarchs backline earned its second consecutive clean sheet. Jasso and Midfielder Jordan Pena added their names to the list of Monarchs to debut this season in the victory.

The start of the match saw each team on level footing as they fought to fall in to rhythm, each taking turns with possession. The Monarchs struck first in the 25th minute through Avila, after a corner kick left the ball at his feet which he rifled to the back net

The second half saw Los Dos come out of the gates swinging, but the Monarchs defense was able to keep the offense at bay. The remainder of the match was the Monarchs show as Chang picked up back-to-back goals for the brace and Etoundi and Jasso both scored within minutes of coming onto the field.

The Monarchs ran rampant after LA Galaxy II earned a red card in the 72nd minute, ushering four unanswered goals in the second half to solidify the 5-0 win at Zions Bank Stadium.

A SCORELESS HOME OPENER

Real Monarchs SLC (0-0-2, 2 points) opened the home portion of the 2019 season with a 0-0 draw against El Paso Locomotive FC on Saturday afternoon.

The match saw both sides trade possession through the middle of the park in the early going as each team sought its rhythm in the game. The first strong opportunity for the Monarchs came early on in the first half, as MF Maikel Chang took a free kick that clanked the upright of the goal before landing near FW Tate Schmitt, whose attempt to sneak in the first goal ended just over the bar. The Monarchs were forced to play the remainder of the match a man down after DF Kalen Ryden earned a red card in the 32nd minute.

Down a man, the Monarchs brought a fight to El Paso, playing tactically defensively and finding opportunities to apply pressure around the El Paso box. GK David Ochoa put stops to the Locos attack, making a massive nine saves throughout the match to hold the clean sheet. On the attacking front, MF Ricardo Avila found an opportunity in the second half, rifling a shot that looked destined for the opening goal, but was barely denied by El Paso goalkeeper, Logan Ketterer. Neither side was able to find a winner as the match ended scoreless, seeing the Monarchs earn a second consecutive tie to begin 2019.

RECAP: SAC 1-1 SLC

Real Monarchs SLC (0-0-1, 1 point) kicked off its fifth campaign in the USL Championship against Sacramento Republic FC, playing to a 1-1 draw at Papa Murphy's Park. The Monarchs found its goal through MF Jack Blake who also wore the captain's armband for the first time.

GK David Ochoa came up big throughout the match, making four saves to keep a high-pressure Sacramento team at bay.

The Monarchs defense was put to the test through much of the first half, as the Indomitable Club began strong. Early in the first half, Sacramento forward Stefano Bonomo found a break away, getting through the Salt Lake backline with a pass to Villyan Bijev, which 17-year-old 'keeper David Ochoa met to keep out of the net. Blake opened up the scoring for the Monarchs in 2019, after a miss timed tackle at the top of the penalty area earned him a penalty kick, which he coolly converted by tucking it into the bottom right corner.

The second half saw the Monarchs kick off strong keeping momentum it found at the end of the first half. FW Lionel Abate Etoundi nearly doubled the lead in the 78th minute using quick speed to get one-on-one with Josh Cohen who came up big to deny the goal. The pendulum began to swing the other way in the dying moments of the game, allowing Republic FC to take advantage and pick up the equalizer after Sam Werner made his quick run down the right side of the pitch, finding Charalampos Chantzpolous in the center of the box. Chantzpolous snuck one in to ultimately end the game level at 1-1.

2019 PRESEASON

Real Monarchs kicked off its 2019 preseason by announcing it would be hosting the first-ever all-USL Championship tournament – The Wasatch Winter Cup – with regional rivals Reno 1868 FC and Colorado Springs Switchbacks FC at the Zions Bank Real Academy in Herriman, Utah.

The Monarchs and Reno 1868 opened up the Wasatch Winter Cup on February 15 in a match that saw the home side fall 4-0 as Reno's heavy pressure and pacing saw the better of the young Monarchs side, earning the preseason shut out. The opening match saw many new faces for the Monarchs, many of which came from the RSL Academy – which Head Coach Martin Vasquez headed prior to his move to the Monarchs – including Steve Jasso, Noah Beck and Jordan Pena, all of whom made the starting lineup.

The preseason tournament came to close on February 21, as Real Monarchs and Switchbacks FC played to a 2-2 draw, playing in an evenly contested match that saw each team trading goals. The Monarchs drew level through Lionel Abate Etoundi after he found himself 1-on-1 with the goalkeeper in the 31st minute and chipped it over for the first Monarchs goal. Andrew Brody picked up the second Monarchs goal, ultimately bring the match level, as he was able to pick up a deflected ball at the top of the Switchbacks penalty area, and sending it into the far-left corner.

Between the two matches in the Wasatch Winter Cup, the Monarchs played a friendly match with Utah Valley University, which saw the USL side shut out UVU, 4-0. The first half was largely dominated by the Real Monarchs as Maikel Chang grabbed an early goal after meeting a one-time volley while three minutes later Jack Blake easily slipped the ball through the net in a 1-on-1 opportunity. Lionel Abate Etoundi rounded out the first half with an easy close range 35th minute goal. After the break, the Monarchs went down a man after Noah Powder received a red card for a bad foul, but was still able to earn the shutout and an additional goal through a trialist in the 72nd minute.

The 2019 preseason came to a close with a trip to California as the Real Monarchs played one last preseason match against LA Galaxy II on March 2.

MARTIN VASQUEZ NAMED REAL MONARCHS HEAD COACH

Real Monarchs SLC announced Martin Vasquez as its new Head Coach in January ahead of the 2019 USL Championship Season. Vasquez becomes the fourth head coach in club history, ushering in a new era for Real Monarchs.

After his tenure with Chivas USA, Vasquez took the helm of the RSL Academy, bring with him everything he had learned from the coaches he found mentors in through his illustrious career. Since then, Vasquez has helped usher in the development of an extensive list of talented players that have gone on to find success with their professional careers in both domestic and foreign leagues.

RSL players such as 2018 Rookie of the year Corey Baird, Justen Glad, Aaron Herrera, Brooks Lennon, and Sebastian Saucedo have learned from Vasquez and his time at the RSL Academy – all of which have spent time with Real Monarchs.

Vasquez will continue to be a vital component in the development of talented young players as he moves to head coach as for Real Monarchs, having already solidifying his place as one of the finest player development coaches in the American game.

NEW ACADEMY FACES IN 2019

The off-season leading into the 2019 season saw a slew of new signings for Real Monarchs to bolster its roster for its fifth campaign in the USL Championship. Notably among those signings are the ones that come from RSL's very own academy. Among the veteran signings of Panama national Ricardo Avila and USL Cup winner Noah Powder, the Monarchs made three signings from the Academy in the forms of DF Steve Jasso, MF Jordan Pena and MF Damian German.

Steve Jasso comes directly from the RSL Academy, having played as a mainstay in the U-19s this season playing in 14 matches for the Academy.
